IN MEMORIAM MRS. M.P. DRISCOLL

Friends throughout the proince learned with regret of the death on February 27th of Mrs. M.P. Driscoll at the age of 84

Although in failing health for the past few years, she continued to take interest in her family, friends, church and community affairs.

She was Georgiana Winnifred McIver daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John McIver, Kinkora, and as a happy and charming bride came to live in Freetown, where her husband, the late M.P. Driscoll, was the popular station agent of the C. N. R. Here they remained until retirement in 1929 when the family moved to Summerside. Her husband died In 1934.

Quiet and unassuming by nature, she left an indelible impression upon those whose lives she touched. Her countless deeds of neighborliness and charity, will long be remembered by the people of Freetown and adjoining districts, and no more fitting tribute could be paid to her than to say "A friend in need was a friend indeed". In school and community the family were loved and respect ed by all and fond farewells were extended when they moved to Summerside. Quiet and unassuming by na-

Born in a Godly home two of her sisters, Sister Damien and Sister Mary Charles, also one of her own daughters, Sister Georgetta, became members of the Order of St. Joseph, St. Paul, Minn. They frequently visited her and the old home, living and displaying that peace of mind which the world cannot give, nor take away. They survive her, also one brother Peter D. McIver, Kinkora. She was devout Catholic and a loving wife and mother, whose hospitality in her home was known far and wide.
