My dear Friends,

It was wonderful to hear from you again. I've thought about you so much these last weeks and intended to answer your letter at once: but the weeks slip by. It's a long time since you were in Britain, but we often talk again the years you Canadian boys visited us, and now you have retired from the Railway. It seems impossible that your sons will be as old as you were when you were over here.

I enjoyed your letters so much. Eunice wrote & told me lots of news the same time as your letter. I hope you are keeping well Justin & will enjoy your retirement with your family for a very long time. I would love to visit the Island again, but as we are now quite old 83 & 85 years, it's not possible. I am hoping you will send me some pictures of the family. You are very lucky to have grand children (we have it). Margaret did not marry, and Lewis quite a distance from Cambridge, but we see her very often. Your sons seem to have done very well, and I only wish we had visited your home when we were on the Island.

We are both keeping well & I still drive our little car. I can't walk far, but we manage. Roseae Walker came over last year & Archie Johnstone & his wife were here in January. It's lovely to keep in touch, & I'm more than pleased you have written & hope to really see you soon. My husband is much better than I am. He has a wonderful memory, and we talk of the years past, and are more than thankful for our good health.

We still have a little black dog!!
Do you remember the puppy we had when you were here Justin? Well my dears, I must close, give my love to all those folks you meet but know us & write again soon, and forgive me for not writing more often. I'll look forward to hearing from you and hope Eunice, you will have a lovely time in your cottage on the Island. We both send our best wishes to you both & all the family. ^{Fondlyst love}
