

Lynn Mailman Drowns During Midnight Swim

LYNN, Aug. 21—Ernest McKenna, 51, of 85 Jackson st., a mail carrier attached to the main Postoffice, drowned early today despite efforts of Lynn police and firemen to revive him.

Officers, attracted by cries for help from the water near Buchanan Bridge, off Western av., noticed McKenna struggling in the water, around midnight.

Police officer Bromley Cook dived into the water and brought McKenna to shore, where the rescue squad of the Fire Department attempted to revive him.

McKenna was pronounced dead on arrival at Lynn Hospital.
